Winter 2020

Lower
Rates

At NV Energy, we're committed to keeping your rates low while being an industry leader in reliability and providing the latest in energy products and services. On January 1, 2020, a $5 million rate cut took effect for our northern Nevada customers. Later this year, we'll file for a rate cut in southern Nevada as part of our General Rate Case. If approved by the Public Utilities Commission of Nevada, new rates would take effect in the region on January 1, 2021.

These lower prices are in addition to quarterly rate cuts we've been implementing as a result of decreased fuel and purchased power costs we pay on your behalf. This decrease is passed on dollar-for-dollar, with no profit to the company. Read about our rate cuts at nvenergy.com/news, and see the price for your energy at any time on your bill or at nvenergy.com/rates.

A Clean Future

Coal-fired electricity generation is now a thing of the past in southern Nevada, and we're hard at work increasing the amount of renewable resources in our portfolio to meet our long-term goal of serving our customers with 100 percent renewable energy. We're excited to have received approval of three additional renewable energy projects — enough to power 230,000 homes — and an additional 590 megawatts of energy storage capacity. Stay tuned to nvenergy.com/news for the latest developments.
