10. Flexible Payment Balance and Remaining Days of Flexible Payment Balance Calculation. The Flexible Payment balance is the amount of credit remaining on the Customer's Flexible Payment account. The Flexible Payment balance changes daily and is calculated by subtracting the prepay decrement during the current billing day from the Flexible Payment balance on the previous day. A billing day is a 24-hour period.

The Flexible Payment decrement for a billing day is the sum of the following items:

- (a) Consumption in the previous 24 hours times the applicable rates;
- (b) Daily prorated Basic Service Charge;
- (c) Daily prorated Optional Flexible Payment Service Charge;
- (d) Applicable taxes and governmental assessments;
- (e) Returned check value and returned check fees;
- (f) Applicable adders/riders; and
- (g) Convenience fees.

The number of days estimated to be remaining of the Flexible Payment balance shall be computed based on the current Flexible Payment balance divided by the adjusted Flexible Payment decrements for the previous period adjusted to reflect seasonal load factors.

No interest shall be paid on a Flexible Payment balance.

11. Estimated Usage. If the Utility is unable to read the meter of a Customer on any day, it may compute the Flexible Payment balance based on estimated usage.

A Utility shall consider the following factors in calculating estimated usage:

- (a) The usage of the Customer during the same month of the preceding year;
- (b) Any change in temperature from the preceding month;
- (c) The usage during the preceding month; and
- (d) Seasonal load factors.

Estimated usage may be used to determine daily decrement to the Flexible Payment balance for no more than 10 consecutive days except under extraordinary circumstances.

A utility shall:

- (a) Adjust the estimated usage upon the first reading of a meter after an estimated reading.

12. Usage Grace Periods and Amounts in Arrears. Usage Grace Periods shall be provided by the Utility to a Customer when the Flexible Payment balance is zero, the Customer continues to take service and the Utility is prohibited from terminating the Service of the Customer pursuant to NAC 704.375 or by the requirements of this Schedule OFP. The Customer is responsible for paying the Utility for the full value of all Usage Grace Period provided by the Utility.

The Utility shall also provide Usage Grace Periods for the first two days of service after initial enrollment in the Flexible Payment program, for any final bill balance after subtracting the amount of an existing deposit, and for the balance of any past due payments after the customer has paid at least 75 percent of that past due balance.

If the amount of the Usage Grace Period balance is $250 or less, 25% of each payment made will be applied to pay down the balance until the Usage Grace Periods balance is fully repaid. If the Usage Grace Period balance is greater than $250, 50% of each payment will be applied to pay down the balance until it is $250 or less, at which time, 25% of each payment will be applied to pay down the balance until the Usage Grace Period balance is fully repaid. If service to the Customer is terminated because of a zero prepay credit balance, the Customer must pay 50 percent of the Usage Grace Period balance plus at least $20.00 to have service restored.

The Usage Grace Period shall become due and payable in full on the day the Customer ends service under this Schedule or on the date the Customer transfers service to another rate schedule.

Any unpaid Usage Grace Period will be subject to collection fees and other costs in the same amounts and in the same timeframes as assessed for delinquent accounts under other Schedules should the Customer not pay the amount due.

No late fees apply to Usage Grace Periods provided to Customers unless service under this Schedule OFP is terminated by the Utility or ended by the Customer.

13. Deposits. The Utility shall not require a Customer to provide a Deposit as a condition of receiving service under this Schedule OFP. The Customer will be subject to the usual and customary deposit requirements of the Utility if the Customer discontinues taking service under this Schedule OFP and receives service under any rate schedule for which Deposits are applicable.

13. Deposits. (Continued)

The Customer's Deposit, if any, for Customers who are transferring service from another rate schedule to take service under this Schedule OFP shall first be used to pay down any final bill amounts, including past due balances, for which that Customer is responsible. The balance of the Deposit after final bill amounts, including past due balances, are subtracted, will then be transferred by the Utility to add to the credit balance in the Flexible Payment account for that Customer.

For a customer taking service under this Schedule OFP, Satisfactory Credit is established, maintained or reestablished upon the Customer maintaining a positive balance in the Customers' Flexible Payment balance over a 12 month period, provided that the customer does not incur more than three terminations of service during that period.

14. Adjustments When Bill is Inaccurate. If the customer has been overcharged a credit would be applied to the customer's Flexible Payment balance no later than ten days after the amount of the overcharge has been identified. If the customer has been undercharged, the amount due will be added to the Usage Grace Period provided to the customer within 30 days of the time that the amount of the undercharge has been identified.

15. Termination of Service: Prior Notice. The Utility may terminate electric service to a Customer without the consent of a Customer, except as otherwise provided in NAC 704.375, after adequate notice has been given pursuant to any of the following reasons:

- (a) Flexible Payment balance is zero,
- (b) Violation of any rule of the utility, or
- (c) Nonpayment of a delinquent bill.

The Utility may also terminate service:

- (a) At the new location of the Customer for the failure to pay a delinquent bill for residential service which the customer received at a previous location; or
- (b) If the Customer receives residential service at more than one location, at any of the locations for the failure to pay a delinquent bill at any location.

16. Termination of Service: Provision of Notice. If the Utility has a reason for the termination of service and intends to terminate service, the Utility shall in every case send an electronic notice of its intended action to terminate service to the Customer at least two days before it carries out the action.

If the Utility does not receive a payment from the Customer sufficient to increase the Customer's days remaining balance to greater than two days, the Utility will send a second notice the day before the date of the intended termination.

Both notices shall be communicated to the Customer by electronic notice sent via the communications channels selected by the Customer to the most recent electronic and voice addresses provided to the Utility by the Customer. If the Customer has previously designated a third party emergency contact, the Utility will send both notices to the third party emergency contact.

Service of the initial and second notices shall be deemed complete on the date that the notices are sent to the most recent electronic or voice address provided to the Utility by the Customer.

The initial notice and any second notice of an intended Termination of Service must contain in plain language the information listed in paragraphs (a) through (d):

- (a) The address of the location where service will be terminated.
- (b) The date on or after which the intended termination will occur.
- (c) The reason for the intended termination.
- (d) The source for additional information and assistance.

The initial and second notice of intended termination shall state that additional resource information regarding the termination of service is provided on the Utility's web portal. The additional information shall include:

- (a) The procedures which are available to dispute or appeal the intended termination, specifying the address and telephone number of the Utility's office that is responsible for handling complaints or inquiries.
- (b) A statement that the Utility will promptly investigate any complaint or dispute and give the customer its written decision on the matter.
- (c) A statement that if the Customer wishes to dispute any fact or interpretation of a regulation or tariff relied upon by the Utility in its decision to terminate service, the Customer must communicate with the Division of Consumer Complaint Resolution of the Commission. The statement must include the mailing address, telephone number and toll-free telephone number of the Division.

- (e) A list of the names, addresses and telephone numbers of at least two governmental agencies or other organizations that have notified the Utility that they will assist Customers in paying their utility bills.
- (f) An explanation of the restrictions on the Termination as set forth in NAC 704.370.
- (g) A statement that the Customer should notify the Utility immediately if any member of the Customer's household requires the continuing use of electric appliances to maintain that member's essential health. The statement required by this paragraph must advise the Customer that the Customer may obtain a postponement of the Termination of Service pursuant to NAC 704.370, Termination of Service: Postponement when dangerous to health. The Customer must also be advised they will no longer qualify for service under this Schedule and would be transferred to Schedule RS, Schedule LRS, Schedule RM, or Schedule RNG if termination is postponed due to a danger to health condition.
- (h) An explanation of the Utility's fee schedule and procedures for reconnecting service.

If the Utility provides the Customer with an initial notice or a second notice of an intended Termination of Service and the Customer or another adult resident of the Customer's household initiates communications orally with the Utility concerning the notice, the Utility shall explain to the Customer or other adult resident each item of information which is included or referenced in the notice.

Should the Customer not make a payment to prevent the Customer's Flexible Payment balance from dropping to a zero balance or remaining at a zero balance after being sent a second notice, the Utility may terminate service to the Customer on the day the balance drops to zero or any following day that the account balance remains at zero and that complies with the termination of service restrictions delineated in Special Condition 16.

16. Termination of Service: Provision of Notice. (Continued)

In the event that the two channels of communications designated by the Customer fail and are not reestablished or replaced by the Customer and the Utility has determined there is a reason for the termination of service and intends to terminate service in two days, the Utility shall revert to written notices until one or both of the communications channels is restored by the Customer.

The Utility must delay the termination of service such that the first written notice is sent to the customer at least 10 days in advance of the day if its intended action. If the Utility receives no response to the first written notice it shall send a second written notice at least 5 days before it terminates service. A notice is considered sent to the customers on the day it is deposited with the United States Postal service, properly addressed and postage paid for delivery by first class mail to the Customer's last known address. The cost of any service provided to the Customer after the Customer has allowed the Flexible Payment account balance to drop to zero shall be provided by the Utility as a Usage Grace Period.

If a Customer fails to maintain the required two channels of communications such that the Utility must send written notices more than twice in any 12 month period it is grounds for disqualification for service under Schedule OFP and the Utility may transfer the Customer to Schedule RS, Schedule LRS, or Schedule RM as applicable. The Customer would then not be eligible to take service under Schedule OFP for a period of 12 months.

17. Termination of Service: Miscellaneous restrictions. The Utility may only terminate service Monday through Thursday excluding holidays and the day before a holiday between the hours of 7:30 AM and 12:30 PM. The Utility shall comply with the termination of service restrictions included in NAC 704.375 except for Section 4 which requires that the amount owed by a customer must exceed $100 before service can be terminated.

18. Resumption of Service. A utility shall resume service to a customer if:

The Customer would then no longer qualify for service under this Schedule and would be transferred to Schedule RS, Schedule LRS or Schedule RM, as applicable and would be required to meet all of the requirements of the Schedule to which the Customer is transferred.

The remote reconnection charge listed in Schedule MC – Miscellaneous Charges does not apply to reconnections under this Schedule OFF.

If the Utility terminates service of the Customer because of a zero prepay balance and the Customer or another person or entity on behalf of the Customer subsequently pays the Utility an amount that is sufficient to resume service, the Utility shall resume service:
